

AUTOMATED COIL WINDING

Automation under strict quality control

Automation is under strict quality control in terms of winding tension, pitch, and speed.

The magnetic force is maximized when these three elements are optimized.

Winding pitch is a significant determinant of durability.

An appropriate gap is intentionally provided so that the varnish completely covers the wound wire, increasing its durability at high rotation speeds.

shindaiwa®

YAMABIKO CORPORATION